MAKE A SUCCESS

BARNARD AND GRAHAM CHAUTAUQUAS DRAW CROWDS.

WEATHER INTERFERES

Notwithstanding Adverse Conditions This Year Plans Are Laid for Bigger Meetings Next Year.

The big rain and hail storm did not interfere with the Barnard Chautauqua which opened last Saturday. It was necessary, however, to move the Chautauqua tent from the picnic grounds to the public school grounds. This had to be done as the foot passenger bridge over the 102 river was washed out by the big rain, and also owing to the grounds being so wet and no sidewalks being out that way. With the Chautauqua going on at the school grounds it is much easier to get there, and also there are sidewalks to that place from all parts of Barnard. The Chautauqua tent was moved Monday morning and was up again for that afternoon's program. There was a big crowd in attendance at both the afternoon and evening programs, when numbers were given by Prof. Jesse Greenup, who gave several vocal and instrumental numbers, and a lecture by Dr. W. H. Bickers. The morning program Monday was given at the Christian church in Barnard, as the tent was not up at that time.

Tuesday a fair crowd was in attendance at the afternoon program, which consisted of music, novelty and readings by the Moneley quartet. They are also to give the program this evening.

Barnard expects to have her big day on Wednesday. The program will contain a lecture by Rev. L. W. Klinker and music and readings by Fred M. Black. Thursday will be the last day of the Barnard Chautauqua. The weather has greatly interfered with the Chautauqua, but still it is a success.

The Graham Chautauqua.

The Graham Chautauqua has proved such a success that at a meeting held Monday night, before the evening's program began, those in attendance decided that Graham should have a Chautauqua next year, and 275 season tickets were signed for.

It was also decided to put more money in securing the talent for next year's program, and $500 was subscribed.

The talent for the present course cost $350, and 500 season tickets were sold, and at least 500 single tickets have been sold since the program opened.

Monday's program was given entirely by the Meneley quartet, and consisted of music, novelty and readings.

Tuesday's program consisted of music and readings for both afternoon and evening by Fred M. Black and a lecture both afternoon and evening by Rev. L. W. Klinker. Wednesday will be the closing day and a large crowd is expected. Hon. Charles J. Hall will be the lecturer at both sessions and Mr. Rolle Kinsey, the musician.

MARTIN FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

St. Joseph Attorney Being Considered for That Place—Said to Have Good Chance of Landing.

B. R. Martin of St. Joseph, formerly of Maryville, is being considered at Washington for the position of district attorney at Kansas City. Others also being considered are Senator Francis Wilson of Platte county and J. W. Sullinger of King City. Mr. Martin, in an interview, said:

"I have not been a candidate for the place nor have I made up my mind whether I would accept it. I know Senator Reed was working in my interest."

OVER EIGHT DOLLARS SHORT.

The White Way Celebration Cost $613.35, the Aeroplane Flight Costing $250.

In a report issued by Secretary John I. Hoffman of the Commercial club, it shows that the disbursements for the White Way celebration day on June 18, exceeded the receipts by $8.45. The money subscribed by the business men amounted to $604.40 and the expenditures were $613.35, leaving $8.45 to the bad. This money was made up by the Commercial club, who had charge of the celebration. In the disbursements, $250 was spent for the aeroplane flight by Ralph McMillen, $110 for free acts, and the balance of the money for advertising, printed matter, automobile trips, the band, and other things.

URGED TO ATTEND MEETING.

Apple Growers to meet in St. Joseph, July 16, to Take Up Freight Rates.

The apple growers of the Missouri river valley district will meet in St. Joseph on Wednesday, July 16th, to frame a protest to present the railroads for fair treatment in the matter of discriminatory freight rates as are in effect in favor of the eastern apple growers.

If growers of this territory will attend this meeting in sufficient numbers so that their protest wil carry weight, it will be possible to get a fair and early hearing from the railroads. Carefully compiled data shows that the growers of this apple producing section pay from 25 to 100 per cent more freight on their apples than do eastern growers to same markets. Growers who understand what a small margin of profit exists between the cost of production and the price of product, realize the vital importance of freight rates where such is possible.

It is thought by men who have studied the situation that the railroads will adjust this matter satisfactorily, and soon.

If, however, the growers show as little interest in this meeting as did the growers of the Texas meeting on June 5th, of this year, where we were told in the press dispatch, "as is usual at such gatherings the railroad men outnumbered the fruit growers two to one and a few extra ones thrown in," that there will be little or no resultant benefit to the grower and the effort will have been wasted. However, growers nowadays are realizing the utter necessity of co-operation, and the Missouri river growers will no doubt not be behind in sticking together in this matter of getting justice from the railroads.

This is the time to show your co-operative spirit by coming to St. Joseph. The Missouri river valley district is a live apple producing section and can support a big fruit growers' exchange. Let this be the opening gun. If we cannot get quick relief from the railroads we can go to the interstate commerce commission.

JOHN BLAND,
Secretary Missouri State Board of Horticulture.

TURNED SHOWMAN

MARK TURNER GOES INTO THE MENAGERIES BUSINESS.

OPENS AT BROOKFIELD

The Menagerie Contains a Number of Small Animals and Mr. Turner Will Devote Part Time to It.

Mark Turner has turned showman. He has collected a small menagerie which he is going to take on the road this summer. The show is called "Jungle Land," and contains about twenty animals. They are a South American armadillo, a European red squirrel, a rhesus monkey from South Africa, a marmozette monkey from South America, the smallest species of monkey; a coyote, some prairie dogs, guinea pigs, coons, English black Belgian hares, Japanese waltzing mice and kangaroo rats. A red fox and some more monkeys will be added to the collection as soon as Mr. Turner can get them.

The menagerie showed for the first time in Maryville July 4. During the rest of the summer Mr. Turner will take it to the fairs and picnics in the surrounding country. The first show will probably be given at Brookfield, Mo., July 18.

None of the animals are trained. The show is merely an exhibit, as Mr. Turner intends to add to it from time to time. He has had experience with such shows in the past, and has found them profitable. The day's business here the Fourth was no exception.

Mr. Turner will not give up his business in Maryville because of the show. His trips will take him away from town only the first part of each week, and he will be in the store on Saturdays and Sundays. Mrs. Turner will take care of the business while he is away.

IT EATS THE MAPLE

DESTRUCTIVE GREEN WORM THAT FEEDS ON SHADE TREE.

THEANISETARUBICUNDA

Two Crops a Year of the Pest Are Hatched and the Second Batch is the More Destructive.

The Normal agricultural department has received from Henry Shell of Wilcox some green striped worms that have been destroying all the leaves on his maple trees. Prof. John Cameron of the department and his class have identified the worms as the green-striped maple worms or aniseta rubicunda. The worms are the larva stage of a handsome yellowish pink moth, sometimes called the rosy pryocampa. These moths appear early in the summer and lay their eggs on the undersides of the maple leaves in clusters varying from forty to eighty each. The larvae hatch in a week or ten days and feed upon the foliage of the trees. In a few weeks, they have become fully developed as a larva having molted four times, when they descend to the ground where just beneath the surface of the ground they change to a dark brown pupae. In about two weeks, they come forth again.

These moths, which usually during July and August, lay eggs for a second brood of larvae, develop during the late summer or early autumn and pass the winter as pupae, emerging as moths the following summer. The second brood of larvae are more numerous and more distructive than the first. The maple forms their favorite food. The larva are preyed upon by various insectiveous birds and by several insects parasites.

Prof. Cameron says that spraying with London purple or Parisgreen early in the season, just after the worms hatch, is the most effective remedy for this insect. Continuing, Mr. Cameron said:

"I have seen these worms so numerous on the maple trees in Kansas City that they not only devoured all of the leaves of the maple trees, but when they left the trees to pipete, they drove the people from their porches for a time."

HORSE PLAGUE INCURABLE.

Disease Which Killed So Many Horses in Nodaway County and Elsewhere Due to Climatic Conditions.

The horse plague which killed a number of horses in Nodaway county and also in this state and Kansas, was not an infectious or contagious disease, but a poison caused by unusual climatic conditions. There is no known cure for it. It is not likely to occur again for years, and yet it may come at any time. At least, this is what a special commission of the University of Kansas thinks. The horse plague was in Nodaway county a number of months ago.

FATHER ANSELM ILL.

Was Operated On Near Midnight of June 22 in Hospital at Lucerne Switzerland, for Appendicitis.

Rev. Fr. Anselm, the pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church of this city, who is on a visit to his mother in Switzerland, was taken ill of appendicitis Sunday, June 22. His case was so severe that the physician summoned said an operation must be performed at once. The patient was taken at once to the hospital at Lucerne and operated on at midnight.

A post card to a Maryville friend from Abbot Ignatius of Arkansas, who is with Father Anselm on his trip, dated June 26, says that Fr. Anselm is doing as well as the physicians expected. The abbot further said he would remain with Fr. Anselm for the rest of his stay abroad and will return with him in October.

Father Anselm has been unfortunate ever since he arrived in Europe, having had several sick spells, and while in Rome attending the great meeting of all the abbots in the world, he became so ill that a physician had to be called. It is hoped he will be entirely recovered since the operation.

To Destroy Flies.

Flies can most readily be destroyed in the house, where other liquids are made inaccessible, by the use of a 2 per cent solution of formaldehyde placed in a shallow vessel in which is also placed a small piece of bread soaked in milk. The flies drink the formaldehyde and are quickly poisoned. The poisoned flies are not dangerous if by chance they are eaten by chickens or fall into food.

THE AWAKENING OF THE CITIES.

The Commercial club of any Missouri city today is a different organization from what it was a few years ago. It is a better organization. It has broader outlook, a bigger purpose.

Not many years back the average Commercial club had a short-sighted policy compared with that of today. Its ears were strained to catch the toot of another factory whistle. The hum of wheels was the music it yearned for. To be sure, other things claimed its attention. Sectional grievances were referred to it. Propositions of debatable character were threshed out on its floor. If you would pore over the minutes of the meetings you would see how the questions of beautifying the city crept into the discussions, at first occupying little time, but gradually winning consideration and finally challenging action. But even with this expansion the commercial club was still provincial. For though its observations within the city limits became wider and keener it still saw little beyond the city limits.

The commercial club of the Missouri city today is looking out at the country that lies beyond. It realizes that the farm is something more than the city's meal ticket. It realizes the farmer is just as much a citizen of the city as is the man in the city directory. It has grasped the essential fact that a good farm outside the city contributes to the city's welfare in the same proportion that another factory, with its consequent great market contributes to the farmer's welfare. In short, the commercial club in Missouri has learned that the relationship between city and country is reciprocal and that it is its duty to build up the country as well as the city.

All this is made very plain in a neat folder just gotten out by the Federation of Missouri Commercial Clubs. The author is A. W. Douglas, chairman of the federation's executive committee. He tells how the commercial clubs in the cities of each country are urging the employment of a farm adviser, and that the federation intends to keep at it until there is a farm adviser in every one of Missouri's 114 counties. The article tells about the valuable farm lands which, quality considered, can be bought cheaper in Missouri than in any other state. It is not the intention of the commercial clubs to neglect municipal enterprises, but it is the aim of the Federation of Commercial Clubs to develop all Missouri possibilities to the utmost.

This folder is the augury of a greater Missouri in every good and wholesome way.—St. Louis Republic.

The Federation Tomorrow.

Maryville has a city federation of women's clubs—yes, and all who are club women and some not club women are supposed to be members of it. There is a time and a place for meeting. The second Wednesday in each month is the time and the library basement is the place. Tomorrow being the second Wednesday in July, the president of Maryville federation asks all the members there are to meet her there at 4 p. m. She wants this to be a place for the airing of civic grievances; where each one may tell of her especial street or neighborhood lack or what is unsightly therein. And not stopping at stating a grievance, but taking the next best step and offering a remedy. So ladies, come out tomorrow with improvement bees buzzing in your bonnets. May there be enough bees to make a swarm, and when the swarm has gathered and lighted and set to work, we will hope to see our town more weedless, billboardless, rubbishless, made cleaner and sweeter by individual effort, the effort of men and women alike.

LAUTERBACH ON WITNESS STAND

Pleads He Was Innocent Victim and "Vicarious Sacrifice."

PUT ON GRILL IN EARNEST

Under Searching Fire of Questions, Prominent New York Attorney Admits Most of Facts Alleged by Lewis Cass Ledyard.

Washington, July 8.—The strange tale of Wall street operations, begun to the senate lobby committee last week by David Lamar, had another chapter added when Edward Lauterbach, Lamar's associate in many undertakings, pleaded that he had been the innocent victim and "vicarious sacrifice" in negotiations that have involved the Morgan firm, the steel interests, New York attorneys, members of congress and men of lesser prominence.

Lauterbach had already testified before the committee. But since his former appearance Lamar had told his unexpected story, involving himself and Lauterbach in the preliminaries of the steel trust investigation and an extraordinary effort to restore Lauterbach to the good graces of the Morgan firm; and Lewis Cass Ledyard had added his sworn statement that Lauterbach had represented himself as the emissary of Speaker Clark, Senator Stone and Democratic leaders in an effort to effect a "reconciliation" with the Morgan-steel interests and shut off investigation or opposition in congress.

Says He Is Victim.

Lauterbach, long prominent in legal circles in New York, sat all day under a searching fire of questions from senators on the lobby committee. He admitted, voluntarily or under the demand of his questioners, most of the facts alleged by Ledyard, but he declared that, throughout the negotiations between Lamar and himself and between himself and members or representatives of the Morgan firm, he had been the innocent victim of those who had concealed facts or made misrepresentations to him.

Throughout the entire proceeding he declared there was no thought of reward on his part. He raised himself in the witness chair and shouted "No" with vehement emphasis when Senator Reed suggested that there had been effort "to shake down" the Morgan and steel trust interests.

"That insinuation is an insult and an outrage," he exclaimed.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

Two Women Killed in Crossing Accident Near Omaha.

Omaha, July 8.—Two women are dead and a woman and a man seriously hurt as the result of a crossing accident, one mile south of Walthill, on the Burlington railway.

An automobile containing William Denshass, his wife and two daughters was struck by passenger train No. 16, en route to Sioux City. Mrs. Denshass and her daughter, Ethel, aged twenty-five, were instantly killed and Mr. Denshass and daughter, Hazel, seriously injured, the latter suffering a fractured skull. The family had been visiting relatives at Lyons and were en route from there to Sioux City to take a train for their home at Lake Park, Ia.

CUBAN POLICE CHIEF SHOT

Mortally Wounded During Pistol Fight Among Crowd on Prado.

Havana, July 8.—General Armando Riva, chief of the national police, was shot and mortally wounded during a pistol fight in the most crowded portion of the Prado.

General Ernesto Asbert, governor of Havana province, Senator Vidal Morales and Representative Arias were involved in the fighting, which was the outcome of a raid made by General Riva on the Asbert club, when a large number of members were caught gambling.

Live Wires Defense Against Rebels.

El Paso, Tex., July 8.—Electricity and dynamite are the defenses upon which the federals will mainly rely in case the long-awaited rebel attack on Juarez should materialize. It was stated that the barbed wire fortifications about the town have been connected with the high powered electric currents and that dynamite mines have been planted at the points most exposed to attack.

Roosevelt Starts for Arizona.

New York, July 8.—Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by his sons, Quentin and Archie, left New York for the west on a trip, which will last six weeks. He will spend most of his time in and around Grand canyon of Colorado in Arizona. Mr. Roosevelt plans to leave on his South American journey about two weeks after his return from the west.

Rand Gold Miners Resume Work.

Johannesburg, July 8.—Most of the gold miners who participated in the general strike last week, which led to the killing and wounding of a large number of rioters, resumed work. Those still out object to the terms of settlement. They demand that the government pension those who were dependent on the men killed or wounded.

SCHOOL HOUSES ARE UNSANITARY

Educators Criticise Conditions in Rural Communities,

WORSE THAN MANY STABLES.

Dr. Corwin Says Cesspool of Degradation Exists Under Shades of Princeton—Three-fourths of Children Diseased.

Salt Lake, July 8.—"In many sections of the country the average rural school house in relation to its purpose is not as well kept or as healthful as a good stable, dairy barn, pig pen or chicken house," declared Dr. Thomas D. Wood of Columbia university before the National Council of Education here.

"Observation of rural school houses in different parts of the country," he said, "show many that violate most or all the principles of sanitation, and whose existence is a disgrace to any civilized community."

Dr. R. W. Corwin, University of Colorado, made a joint recommendation with Dr. Wood on "health problems in education." In supplementing Dr. Wood's report, he said:

"What more could be expected of a government that creates a cabinet department for animals, but fails to recognize one for man; that appropriates millions for brutes and little or nothing for human eugenics?"

Dr. Corwin gave figures on physical and mental diseases that caused a lively discussion. He declared that 15,000,000 out of 20,000,000 school children in the United States are diseased. He attacked not only the sanitation of schools, but surrounding conditions. A cesspool of degradation exists under the shades of Princeton and similar conditions exist in other states," he said. "If for the next 100 years our schools would discontinue all higher and aesthetic education and devote all their energy to improving the human stock, at the end of the century we would find the people not only 100 years older, but 100 per cent better, stronger and wiser."

WILL RID CITY OF MASHERS

Philadelphia to Send Out Plain Clothes Men to Catch Offenders.

Philadelphia, July 8.—Director Porter will organize a squad of twenty men who have been on the police force for at least ten years and, after putting them under a sergeant, will send them out in plain clothes to "catch the mashers" that infest the streets in the center of the city. Flirting in and around the railroad terminals and near the city hall has become so flagrant that last week no less than eleven men were arrested for forcing their attentions upon women.

FIRES PISTOL IN HER MOUTH

Negro Boy Rams Blank Revolver Down Girl's Throat and Pulls Trigger.

St. Louis, July 8.—Angry, he said, because the little girl teased him, Thomas Bush, eleven years old, a negro, rammed a blank cartridge revolver down the throat of five-year-old Ubinka Domiano and fired it. The little girl ran screaming to her mother, Mrs. Draga Domiano, and collapsed on the doorsteps. A physician who attended her said she probably will live.

Union Pacific Decree Entered.

Salt Lake, July 8.—The decree of the United States circuit court judges, sitting as the district court of Utah, dissolving the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger, was entered of record in the United States district court here. The way is now open for the trustee appointed by the court to carry out the disposition of the $126,000,000 Southern Pacific stock owned by the Union Pacific Railroad company. The decree was entered at a special session of the district court.

Aviator Spilled Into Lake Michigan.

Chicago, July 8.—Flying at the rate of fifty miles an hour, Glenn Martin's hydroaeroplane dipped too close to the surface of the lake and was overturned. Martin and his assistant, Charles H. Day, clung to the overturned craft until rescued by the life saving crew, which also recovered the machine. Neither airman was hurt, nor was the machine badly damaged.

Lady Sackville Gets Scott Estate.

London, July 8.—The will of the late John Murray Scott, leaving nearly $5,000,000 to Lady Sackville, daughter of the former British minister to Washington, was sustained by the jury which heard the evidence in the contest brought by Sir John's relatives. The jury found no undue influence or fraud on the part of Lady Sackville.

New Mayor of Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, July 8.—George Alexander, who had been mayor of Los Angeles for more than four years, was succeeded by H. H. Rose, formerly a police justice. A new council of nine members, one of whom is a Socialist, also took office, ending what has been known as the "good government" administration.

Jack London to Undergo Operation.

Oakland, Cal., July 8.—Jack London, the writer, is in a hospital here preparing to undergo an operation for appendicitis. His physician says London's condition is such that he should be out again in about ten days.

KUHN CORPORATIONS IN FINANCIAL STRAITS

First-Second National Bank of Pittsburgh is Closed.

Pittsburgh, July 8.—A series of financial difficulties occupied the Pittsburgh district. The First-Second National bank, one of the largest banks

The troubles were due to financial difficulties confronting the Kuhn interests of this city. It is said the embarrassment is only temporary and that there is no immediate cause for alarm.

Heavy investments in waterworks propositions, coal and oil lands and interurban railway companies, together with the financing of a skyscraper bank and office building, are given as some of the causes leading up to the day's suspensions.

The trouble first made its appearance in the First-Second National bank. It is said the government has been investigating conditions for the last month, or since June 4 last, when the last statement was made. An alleged deficiency of $2,145,000 in the legal reserve of the bank and the subsequent examination brought matters to a climax.

Several thousand persons crowded about the First-Second National bank. A squad of police was necessary to keep the great crowd moving.

Morris Packing Plant Still Burning.
